PRESIDENT'S LETTER

The club is in a unique position by receiving a one-time membership rebate payment from PCA National. With this unexpected funding, we are able to reduce or eliminate event fees for many of the LPR club events for the balance of the year. GTG will have a $10.00 reduction per event, Tours will have a $5.00 reduction per day per tour and Tech Sessions will have the fee eliminated. Also, there will be a reduction of prices for LPR garments, badges and badge plates. This will need to be re-evaluated at the end of the year, but for now, please take advantage of this offer and plan to attend one or more of the upcoming LPR events.

Our Annual Swap Meet at PartsHeaven was a huge success. The street was filled with people selling and buying. It was interesting to walk down the street and hear all the tech talk among the sellers and buyers. The Concours was also a full house with 27 beautiful cars prepared for judging. The Car Coral was also filled with cars that spilled into the street and the adjacent parking lot.

I want to thank all the LPR volunteers who made this event a great success. Jim and Jen Bryant were there at the crack of dawn to setup and greet the early arrivals. Christina helped Jen setup the food concession and later assisted Peter Ridgway with Concours registration. Tony Vanacore is always the colorful cook who prepared the hot dogs. You could hear him half way down the street announcing that the hot dogs were ready. Ken and June Iles and Emilie Highley arrived to help with the lunch crowds and add their charm greeting everyone. The Goodie Store was on full display with all the new merchandise presented by Paul Seidel-Smith. Of course, there was John Reed to document the entire event with photographs.

The PCA Parade Event is finally here. There are over 1,200 cars registered to participate. I know there are many "first timers", so don't hesitate to ask those members who have attended other Parades for inside hints in order to get the best from Parade. This Parade will be well attended by Zone 7 members, to the point that there are so many Zone 7 members attending that we do not have a venue to hold a Zone 7 Party. But, there will be so many other things going on that I hope you will not be disappointed...there is always next

I just received a notice from Parade that there will be a Porsche Coral at the Concours. There is room for 180 cars which will be located on the 14th fairway very near the Concours cars. To participate, you must sign up on the Parade registration website via the pca.org website. Staging will occur at the Peninsula College parking lot at 8:00am. If you miss this staging, you will not be able to participate. You will be able to leave the Coral starting at 11:30am. There will be shuttles running from the Peninsula College parking lot from 9:00am to 6:00pm for those driving to Parade Headquarters.

The Salinas Valley Wine Bus Tour #1 and #2 are still open to all entrants now. These tours are on the 18th and the 20th.

If you have not been to the PCA website recently, the new website launched May 7th. Go online to check it out. It is more interactive with real time updates.

PCA is entirely hosting the Werks Reunion this year with the leadership of Tom Provasi. The following is a portion of what Tom sent me.

"The Porsche Club of America is set to begin a new tradition in 2014 with the inaugural Werks Reunion. The new, premier Porsche event will take place on Friday, August 15, located on the beautiful links of the Rancho Cañada Golf Club in Werks Reunion is open to all and tagged as "A Porsche Gathering" for a reason: PCA is inviting other Porsche clubs to join in the fun! Werks Reunion is intended to be a new way for all Porsche owners to mingle during Monterey's 'car week'. As a result, the Porsche Owners Club, Porsche Racing Club, 356 Registry, 356 Club, Early 911S Registry, R Gruppe, 914 World, and all Porsche clubs and registries are welcome. Membership in PCA is not required."

For full information, please go to the PCA website: www.pca.org

Lastly, Christina and I will be at the Welcome Tent Saturday afternoon to welcome everyone to Parade. Please stop by to say hello or just to hang around to welcome others.

Loma Prieta Region's event calendar was bursting at the seams as usual, seven events taking place in the merry month of May.

Starting on May 3rd with a 'sold out' Soquel Vineyards tour by Kathy and Johnny Musser and Tony and Kris Vanacore, 20 Porsches took part in this extravaganza, and well over $900 raised for charity.

A routine board meeting followed this on May 6th.

Close on the heels of this, May 10th saw a tech session at Don Wise's Autowerks, where Les Schreiber led the discourse on preparation for the forthcoming Porsche Parade, particular attention given to concours grooming.

Next day, May 11th saw the annual Mothers' Day Tour to Bargetto Winery, again led by Les Schreiber. Several regular Tours-R-U's folks joined this popular backroads tour.

Of course the autocrossologists were again out en masse on May 17th at Marina Airport, 57 drivers taking 798 laps, kissing 257 cones, and taking advantage of the opportunity to get as much practice as possible before competing in the upcoming Porsche Parade at this same site.

On May 24th, a most unusual dinner meeting or Goodtime Gathering took place at the home of Jim and Jenny Bryant, whose fertile imaginative minds demanded that everyone turn up for a hoedown dressed as members of the "Beverly Hillbillies". While most of the 42 people there aped Jed Clampett, Elle May, Grannie or Jethroe, only Steve Mitchell was innovative enough to portray the business suit role of Mr. Drysdale the frustrated banker of this popular past T.V. series. Mock XXX moonshine was in abundance, vittles were plentiful, although Grannie's possum pie tasted suspiciously like chicken.

Finally on May 25th, LPR's annual get-together at Moffett Field Naval Air Station's Golf Clubhouse took place to watch the Indy 500 on the large T.V. screens. Bob Morgan did a fine job operating a complex computer system of winners'wager management.

EDITOR'S LETTER

Moose

The Post is out a little later this month for a couple of good reasons. I wanted to make sure members had early notice of the reduction in Goodie Store prices and details about the Family Picnic that will be held July 26th. These changes were voted on at the June 3rd Board meeting. The Board has also decided to suspend the $10 club fee for Good Time Gatherings until the end of the year.

Jackie has taken the Family Picnic up a notch by bring in the Bad Boyz of BBQ to cater the event. These guys built their fame by expanding the tailgate party from the Oakland Raider gamers to a regular BBQ catering business. They have been featured on Diners, Drive-ins, and Dives with Guy Freri on the Food Network, check it out: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=x_LfojgcXuQ

I also want to mention that I really appreciate the support the members of LPR have given me and Jackie during our difficult time now. The past six months have been life changing as I fight to battle this disease. I am overwhelmed by the kindness, thoughts, and cards we have received. I am continuing with treatments at UCSF and there is hope and with a positive attitude I plan to beat it.

PORSCHE CARS NORTH AMERICA

Panamera and Macan set the pace in first five months

Porsche delivers 71,500 new cars

Atlanta. Porsche AG has increased its deliveries in the first five months by six percent in comparison to the same period of the prior year. From January to May 2014, the sports car maker delivered just under 71,500 new cars to customers worldwide. In the reporting month of May, Porsche sold more than 16,500 vehicles, an increase of 10 percent.

So far this year, Porsche has recorded higher figures in all sales regions. In Europe, the sports car maker achieved a growth of 10 percent with just fewer than 24,000 sold vehicles. The United States, the biggest Porsche market, contributed its share to the sports car maker's success: nearly 19,000 sold vehicles reflect a jump of seven percent in comparison to January to May 2013.

The Panamera in particular set a fast pace and, with worldwide nearly 11,000 deliveries, showed the biggest growth of all model ranges (+20%). In May 2014 alone, Porsche boosted its deliveries of the sports saloon by 35 percent, to just under 2,000 new cars. The new SUV sports car Macan will be launched in all markets worldwide by the end of the year. At home in Germany, the sales up till now show that around 60 percent of the Macan customers have ordered a Porsche for the first time.

MANGE, VINO, & BOCCE

Eat, Drink and Be Merry...Italian Style

story by Christina Vincent

PHOTOS: John Reed

Kevin Bennett tires to psych up Diana Hallock for the game. It appears she's going with the wicked witch persona.

We pulled up to the Rinconada Hills Clubhouse alongside Reeds and Vanacores. We walked in at 4:00 PM... right on time. Well, arriving “right on time” to an LPR event means the party has already started. Sure enough, we were greeted by many LPRites already enjoying a glass of wine. VP Jackie Mitchell was first to greet us and introduce us to a new LPR member,

John Harms, who was attending his first event. Soon a steady stream of partiers flowed through the door so quickly Jackie ended up running around with a fist full of cash and checks trying to keep track of who was handing her money. At this point, I still hadn't seen our hostess, Bonnie Radding. She and some other ladies were busy preparing the dinner we were to enjoy that night. I did get in a quick hello as she buzzed about setting up the hors d'oeuvres.

Well, the gangs all here, time to break out the balls...er...the Bocce balls. We gathered around the court, as our master of ceremonies, Kevin Bennett, explained the rules of the game. It was decided to be Men versus Women and teams of 4 each were needed. It took a little convincing to get the first teams of guinea pigs to form. I wasn't planning on playing but I found myself as one of those guinea pigs, along with Jackie Mitchell, Jan McFarlane and Diana Hallock. Ken Iles, Hal Hallock, Bill Highley and Tony Vanacore made up the men's team. With wine glasses topped up, the first game was underway. Much trash talk was flung, all in good fun of course, as well as, some quite colorful jokes about balls (the opening line of this paragraph being the most mild and the only repeatable one). The competition was fierce...bet you didn't think Bocce ball was a contact sport! Just ask Jackie what dedication really means. When all was said and done, the men's team was victorious, winning 15-10.

Time for the next game! On the men's team: Tom Provasi, Vince Vincent, and the Musser Father, Son Duo. On the women's team: Emilie Highley, Kathy Musser, Kris Vanacore and Angie Reed. The score...and the balls...were much closer in this game. Round after round passed with one team earning 1 point, followed by the other team earning 1 point. Keep in mind this game is played to 15 points! About halfway through, we began to smell the delicious scents of dinner. Everyone was getting hungry and when the men's team reached 10 points, victory was declared and we adjourned to the clubhouse.

What a spread! A table filled with a veritable smorgasbord of salads and dish after dish of Bonnie's delectable lasagna, greeted us inside. As always food is serious business in LPR. The line formed quickly and practically every dish was cleaned out in short order. Yet everyone still had room for dessert! After a few rousing games and a wonderful dinner filled with great conversations, our agenda of Mange, Vino e Bocce (though, not necessarily in that order) was complete. Thank you Bonnie for hosting...and cooking for... a night out.

It was the guys vs. the gals and the green balls won. Bill Highley, Tony Vanacore, Ken Iles and Hal Hallock.

Jan McFarlane didn't roll any balls but she was really into the game!

Angie Reed demonstrates her unique bowling technique.

Emilie Highley is not above cheating as demonstrated by this application of body English being applied to one of her team mate's shots.

Proof that LPR members come in small, medium and large! Kevin Bennett, Jacqueline Shannafelt and John Reed.

Both the accommodations and the lasagna dinner were superb.

John Harms hits the chow line at his first LPR good time gathering.

Vince Vincent & Jackie Mitchell present hostess Bonnie Radding with a thank you gift which generously included a box of pasta.

THE SOQUEL WINERY TOUR REPRISE

story by Kevin Bennett

PHOTOS: Johnny Musser II and John Reed

Were there any feelings of inadequacy when this scooter club encountered the Porsche club on the road?

Johnny & Kathy introduced this novel evening tour last year. In this year's incarnation, the Musser's tour to the Soquel Winery had, appropriately, a tweak, new twists and a new purpose. Last year's tour started in Los Gatos and, due to heavy traffic it had a terrible time getting out of the parking lot. The tour leaders learned their lesson and the tweak was having the tour assemble in south San Jose where there was an easy merge onto Almaden Expressway to take us southward for this year's Soquel sojourn. Tony Vanacore led the first half of the tour (supposedly the "fast" crowd) and Johnny guided the second (the leisurely crowd?). Kathy had invited the GKs to come so we had made special arrangements for transport. Emily Bennett rode with Tom & Sandy Provasi in their Cayenne. Debbie elected to accompany Gary Goelkel since his wife Kathy, was not in attendance, and that left Alex Bennett to ride with me.

I was fighting a gremlin in Gunner... with the ignition off I could hear the sound of a fan running. While awaiting the start of the driver's meeting, I popped my hood and was fooling with fuses with, of course, advice coming from all quarters. With the removal of all the fuses assigned to fans by the fuse chart, the fan was still running. As departure time neared,

I gave up on finding the problem, at which point it was volunteered to me by someone present that when the door lock is engaged, it shuts off all electrical circuits except the alarm... I filed that away for future reference.

New twists were provided by a new route that took us south to mid Monterey Bay. Fortunately, there had been a modest amount of rain over the last month, so the hills were lush and reminiscent of the Emerald Isle.

Amongst the green we saw several reservoirs that barely qualified as water depositories; they were so dry they were reminiscent of puddles. We traversed many a winding back road, past berry farms and sloughs, before emerging onto Highway One at Moss Landing. Elkhorn Slough and Monterey Bay were the only water features we saw on this drive that weren't showing any signs of the drought.

The second shift arrived at the Soquel Winery shortly after 5 P.M. When I shut off the ignition, once again, I could hear the whirring of the phantom fan. I suggested to Alex that we should try locking the doors as suggested at our jump off point. When that didn't work, I gave Alex the keys and suggested that he lock the car from the outside driver's door. The fan kept whirring. So, once again, I decided to just let it keep running and opened my the door from the inside, setting off the car alarm! Quick... key in the door lock... crap... that doesn't shut it off... try putting it in the ignition,, no that doesn't work either... how about starting the engine!?... the engine won't start!... now folks are standing around brimming with suggestions... "Disconnect the horn."... "Disconnect the battery."... "Pull the horn fuse."... which sounded like a good one... pop the hood... pull the fuse cover and the alarm shuts off. All of this took place with Paul and Peter Bargetto hovering over the situation like a couple of Debbie, Kevin & Emily Bennett, Tony Vanacore, and who's this? Why it's Joe & Cheryl Pruss, former activist good-timers and leaders of one of LPR's best tours ever!

No, this isn't an auction. Peter Bargetto is extolling the virtues of this magnum of wine; the prize for the charity drawing.

Susan George, Tom Geary and Peter Bargetto. Tom looks happy cause he won the wine... Susan because she's thinking that she'll get some... Peter because, well, it's his job!

The winery's patio had a pretty spectacular view down to the Monterey Bay.

MPs ready to run me in, apparently because of concern about disturbing any neighbors. Interestingly, after all of this folderol, the fan was no longer running. I was instructed to pull Gunner forward, however, so that the tire was not pressing against an asphalt curb and, sure enough, when I shut off the engine, the fan was running again. At this point Doris Day came to mind... que sera sera... and I just shut the door and went off to the party.

The rest of the tour participants were gathered on the patio tasting wine and eating finger foods. Crackers, cheeses and grapes were laid out for the group's enjoyment and, before I could say Domino's, a half dozen small pizzas arrived. These pint-sized gems were topped with Caesar salad and I took out my pocket knife and cut one in half to share with She-who-must-be-obeyed; we both consumed them with seemingly equal satisfaction. Since I don't drink wine and am in the process of building my own wood fired oven, I made a beeline up the slight hill to the winery's altar to the art of pizza to commune with Paul Bargetto while he created these little disks of gustatory delight. He was working on the second variety on the menu this evening, pulled pork pizza. Paul was scrambling like a man possessed trying to churn these babies out and I wanted mightily to assist him, but, unfortunately, I couldn't offer due to various wounds on my hands from working on my own oven project.

While I was distracted with Paul, brother Peter Bargetto was holding forth at the tasting bar; pouring the various vintages and describing the heritage of the magnum of wine that was the prize in the drawing. Drawing? Yes, the new purpose of the event was as a charity fundraiser and, as with all good fundraisers, tickets had been sold for a drawing. My granddaughter, Emily, drew the winning ticket, held by Tom Geary, and he took home the magnum of special blend.

With the wine tasting completed and the prize magnum awarded, the river of pizzas dried up and the tour group began their farewell rituals and finally headed for their cars. Thanks on behalf of the tour members and the club to Johnny & Kathy Musser (helpers Tony and Kris Vanacore, too) for planning and executing this event. Congratulations, also, for raising $910 for charity. See ya'll next year.

The tour's executive committee pose with the Prez; Vince Vincent, Kathy & Johnny Musser, Kris & Tony Vanacore.

ZONE 7 AND PCA REGIONS

Announcing the Famous

Annual GGR Porboys Beginner Autocross School

Sunday, June 29, 2014

It is that time of year to start thinking about all of the great Porsche driving opportunities in 2014. On Sunday June 29, Howard Yao, and John Seidell will again run this school. It is really for beginners or people who have autocrossed only a few times. If you have ever wondered what it is like to experience driving your Porsche on the edge (but safely in control) then this is for you. This is a good safe place for drivers to learn about the handling of their Porsche.

The school will be on the large North runway area of the old Alameda NAS (just past the Alameda Ferry Terminal). The day begins at 7:30 AM with registration, teching of cars, and then a driver's meeting at 8:15. Students will then walk the course with their morning instructors. After that, students will be driving on skidpads in order to learn the feel of an oversteering and an understeering car. It is a lot of fun!! The day will proceed with students running the Autocross course with their instructors, while half of the students learn to work the course.

After the lunch break we continue to run cars in hour sessions until 5 PM. It is truly a fun day with lots of learning. One of the best parts is that students get a few rides in their instructor's car. We try as best we can, to have instructors that have had experience with cars similar to the students. You will also have different instructors in the morning and afternoon.

The school is sponsored by Joe and Annie Zeiph, the owners of Porboys German Automotive Service. They are located at 3640 East 9th ST. in Oakland. Joe and his technicians are experts in the repair of all German makes, but they specialize in the maintenance, repair, and complete rebuilds of 911, 944, 914, 928, 996, 997, and Boxster cars. If you have questions or need repairs, call Porboys at 510-437-9400. They do Smog Checks, excellent work on all German makes, and are highly recommended.

If you sign up and pay the $99 fee, you get:

Instruction from the best and most experienced instructors in the west!! (Really)

1. A lunch including Porboys sandwiches, chips, cookies, sodas and water.
2. A Porboys Autocross School T-shirt or hat.
3. A knowledge of how an Autocross is run, and how to work different jobs.
4. A basic knowledge of car control and you will learn great tips on how to handle your car.
5. You will drive home with a big smile on your face!!!

If this sounds really good then sign up on now on www.Motorsportreg.com. You will first need to create an account, then go to the Sunday June 29 date and select the GGR Porboys Autocross School. If you have questions email Howard Yao at howard@aberrance.com or John Seidell at johnseid@astound.net. We do limit the number of students to 55 so that there is plenty of driving time. Advance signup and payment is required. See you there!!
