VISTAS

attended the Porscheplatz at Mazda Raceway at Laguna Seca for the Sportscar races there at the end of April. We missed the Mother's Day Brunch this year due to family obligations, but I heard that those that attended had a wonderful time.

We hold our monthly board meetings on the first Tuesday of each month. All members are welcome to attend.

During the May board meeting some discussion occurred after a member voiced a complaint that the minutes of the monthly board meetings were not being published in the POST. We had changed our By-Laws in 2011 to allow us to put the minutes on the website, but that has not been done consistently. I've taken steps to remedy that issue, and you should see the monthly minutes on the website. I will provide a brief summary of the board meeting in this column each month, but I encourage you to go to the LPR website if you want to see the detailed reports. The minutes can be found at: <http://lprpca.org/minutes-of-the-board-of-directors/>

We send out a draft of the agenda for the upcoming board meeting

about a week in advance. That is the opportunity for board members and chairpersons to add items to the agenda. Any member can have an item added to the agenda by emailing me or any of the board members with a request to do so. Our emails are in the front of the POST. From now on at the rest of the board meetings this year, we will ask that non-agenda issues be noted and tabled for discussion and added to the agenda for the next board meeting. This will help us get through the agenda items in a more expeditious manner.

June events- check the calendar on the website for the events.

Come out, meet some friends and share your enthusiasm!

Bill's Blurb

Greetings.. Summer driving is starting up. Memorial Day traffic was very heavy. The mess at airports with TSA screening will put more cars on our already clogged roads. Still fairly low gasoline prices add more impetus to drive vs fly. And some "distractions" add to local traffic around the Bay Area. The Warriors march on. Their stunning performance has drawn record TV audiences to the NBA finals. Yes, we are watching- pretty unusual as we never watched the NBA before two years ago.. But we have a distant connection to their coach Steve Kerr from his college days. Then there are the Sharks getting to the playoffs for the Stanley Cup. Good for them and good for San Jose business downtown. Both of these will be over soon. Then you have the Giants- perpetual sellout but at least Bart, rail etc minimize traffic. Wow- they had a really great May this year. It's a great time to be a Bay Area sports fan. But summer driving is setting in and the roads beckon.. Like I said before- get out on those back roads.

LPR activities have been great this last month- Mother's Day tour, Steinbeck Rallye, Porscheplatz, AX, checks for Sacred Heart and much more coming. And we have a few new faces showing up.

It was great to see Jim Davis show up at the Mother's Day event. That's good. I was also very pleased when Karen Morgan asked us at the Mother's Day tour to write a note to her father- a WW II vet who served in Europe and was going to Washington DC via the Veteran's Honor Flight Network. WWII vets have a special place in my heart as I was raised in Pittsburg, California, where the Soldiers embarked to the Pacific theatre. They marched to the troop ships only a ½ block from my house. I still have those WW II images in my mind. So hats off to Karen's father and all those who served in WW II & our other Military operations. This is a reminder that Memorial Day is much more than barbeque and a 3 day weekend.

Kudos also to Emile Highley for her diligent efforts keeping us in touch on the folks in the LPR family who need our thoughts, prayers and support.

For those going to the Parade at Jay Peak, please get me a write up and more pictures. Thanks to the Provasi's for providing that last year- keep it coming. And have a great time.

Enjoy the Post. Bill Jump

Mother's Day Tour

A small but fun loving group met at the Country Inn about 9AM for Les's annual Mother's Day Brunch Tour. The Reeds were there along with Bonnie and Lisa Radding plus members Peter and Theresa Menard. Jim Davis was back again with Les leading us all. This was our first time since we're usually busy but we had perused the venue and menu and were looking forward to the day.

The last 4 days had been overcast and a little rainy but the Mothers Day weather was perfect for a quick tour followed by a great brunch. Les was a most gracious host, providing roses for all the ladies before we hit the road. Very thoughtful. He also had flowers for our host at the winery. Definitely a nice guy.

We zero'd our odometers and headed out the back roads past Calero and Uvas reservoirs toward route 152. It was great to see the reservoirs mostly full of water. It's been 3 or 4 years since we've had that much water. I can also report that Lexington is also pretty full since we passed it by on the way home.

After a lovely drive on 152 over Mt. Madonna, Les took us to Corralitos via Brown's Valley Road. A route I'd never taken. The roads got narrow quickly and they're definitely "undermaintained". For example, when one lane got washed out a few years back, they just put up a couple stop signs and turned it into a one lane road. Altogether not bad roads for a Sunday drive- especially in my Macan. I got another perspective when I happen to get behind a mid 70's 911 and a vintage Ferrari driven by some serious seniors out for their Sunday drive. 20 mph was the high speed for awhile, however I kept thinking about the suspensions in those old beauties (cars and passengers) ahead of me then mentally congratulated them for attaining even 20mph. Did I mention the road was not exactly well maintained?

After they graciously pulled over to let me pass, we caught up with the rest of the tour as everyone pulled into the Corralitos Market. What a treat. I'd never been to Corralitos but had heard of the market. It's a 60 year old family run market that specializes in hand made sausages. They have 20 different kinds! Bigg John had suggested we take along a small cooler in case we found some we couldn't resist. I found about 4 that I had to have and while I was ordering Jacqueline walked up and found a few more. On a side note, we've tried 2 and I can't wait to try the others. They were great. Unfortunately, my diet manager doesn't consider smoked sausages healthy so the others are now frozen and I'm limited to maybe 2 a month. Thank goodness we'll still have Polish Dogs at the Swap Meet in a couple weeks.

Back to the Corralitos Market. It seems to be a gathering spot for all Sunday drivers, bikers and hikers in the larea. Parking was tight but everyone found a spot and there were lots of friendly people wandering around enjoying the great day.

From the market, it was a quick trip to our destination. Mostly up Hwy 1 then through downtown Soquel to the Bargetto Winery. We arrived at 11:30 am and met up with Kathy Musser and the two Johnny's. Bargetto has a nice little outdoor patio overlooking Soquel Creek. Their Mother's Day set up is catered and overseen by Nancy Falcon, Bargetto's marketing mgr. Seating was limited to 85 people and the event was sold out weeks beforehand. Everything was very well done. Umbrellas over the outdoor table setting with pale green table linens, flowers on the tables, real plates and silverware and an open bar when we arrived. Open bar, yeah! Sparkling wine for starters, 2 or 3 different reds (I lost count), at least one white and an interesting raspberry desert wine. Sorry, I can't rate the white but the Tuxedo Red, a nice blend named after the winery's cat, was very good. The Pinot was a little weak for my tastes but others enjoyed it. I enjoyed the Tuxedo Red a LOT.

The buffet opened promptly at noon and a good thing since everyone was very hungry. The food was very good. Salads, fruit, breads, chicken and a frittata main course. Some folks thought there should have been more main courses and to be honest, the frittata was a little weak but no one went away hungry. It turns out the caterer was new and Nancy has taken the comments to heart, promising even better next year.

If you haven't made this tour before, we can really recommend it. It was our first time but if we get the chance, we'll eagerly do it again.

And now on a personal note, post brunch activities included a long nap. Knowing it was an open bar and a lot of food, Jacqueline brought along a couple pillows and lite blankets. It turns out, the Macan seats lay virtually flat and I can attest they are as comfortable as my big lounge chair at home. I tested them for about 45 minutes under a shady spot in the Bargetto parking lot. Hey- better than driving after that nice brunch.

After the little rest, Jacqueline and I took the short ride over to Capitola beach for a beautiful walk and an iced coffee mocha before heading home via the San Jose-Soquel road. Many of you know I'm not allowed to drive hwy 17 with Jacqueline. I don't get the "let's live forever" thing but I try to be considerate (mostly) and the SJ-Soquel road is certainly less stressful than 17. Unless there's a Prius driver in front of you the whole way. But that's another story...

Drive By Steinbeck Rallye

Story by Karen Morgan

“A journey is like a marriage. The certain way to be wrong is to think you control it.” – John Steinbeck

When driving on a journey along a rallye, sometimes there are heated conversations between the driver and a navigator. For those participants who encountered any “gripes of wrath”, a special treat was provided at the rallye’s end. What else but a can of sardines – evocative of Cannery Row, one of Steinbeck’s more familiar novels.

Twenty-one participants in nine cars, along with Kevin & Debbie Bennett, joined Bob & I in a parking lot of the Monterey Peninsula Community College on a beautiful Saturday morning. Waivers were signed, money collected, drivers’ meeting was conducted, and the first car got off at 11:00 a.m.

The Mussers (Kathy, Johnny, & Johnny III) were first out, followed by Jim & Jennifer Bryant, then Jack Wallace. John and Angie Reed left next, followed by David Hoffman & Carl Amdahl and then Peter Ridgway with his friend, Donn. The team of Ed & Karen Tefankjian and Chris & Rena Schaut thought they might be the last to leave, but Jean & Peter Menard and then finally John Gross followed them out. Good to see you, John, join LPR for an event!

The Bennetts then ran the rallye to take pictures of the answers to the twenty gimmick questions in case there were protests. Good thing, as they found one of our answers had been removed from its window (What is “broken by a storm, freed from my roots”?) on the Driftwood in Moss Landing. We also decided to throw out the “Where can you find concrete strawberries?” question as it was visible (somewhat) but not on the rallye route. The strawberries were on a Route 1 overpass as the turn was made onto Salinas Road.

The end of the rallye was the Sea Harvest Restaurant (great recommendation, Kathy!). Everyone arrived around 1:30. The staff was already prepared for us, so drinks were ordered and served as participants drifted in. We were happy to see Bill & Mary Beth Jump join us. John Reed snapped pictures as Bob & I asked tie-breaker questions (which we didn’t need, as it turned out.)

Prizes were awarded as we awaited our food. First place winners received mugs with book covers of John Steinbeck novels imprinted upon them. Second place winners received magnets with quotes from John Steinbeck. The results were:

- 1st place in Class 1 – David Hoffman (a new member we hope to see at more events) & Carl Amdahl
- 1st place in Class 2 – Tefankjians & Schauts
- 2nd place in Class 1 – Bryants
- 2nd place in class 2 – Mussers

Special prizes were awarded to the Menards and John Gross. They were “clean” out of answers and chose not to submit a scoring sheet. Bob & I thought they should at least receive an effort award (a bar of homemade soap from the Steinbeck Museum Store!).

Thank you to all participants. Special thanks to Debbie & Kevin Bennett for devoting several Saturdays to helping us run & plan the rallye and for helping us train our Havanese puppy, Chico, to take long drives in a car. They made the planning fun!

As I sit here writing this (later in the afternoon after the rallye), I can see a parade of Porscheplatz Porsches driving the Laguna Seca Track. What a beautiful sight! Tomorrow, Bob & I will be working with Tom & Sandy Provasi in the Porscheplatz Tent at 6:30 a.m. For those of you that know me, this will be quite a feat!

A Heart to Heart Experience

Story by Emilie Highley

Over the years, many of us have independently donated to Sacred Heart – perhaps it was clothing or food. It was not until May 4th, that a group of us came to realize all that Sacred Heart does for our community. As we all know, Sacred Heart is one of the 3 charities that LPR supports annually with donations. The other two being: Jacob’s Heart and the Morgan Autism Center (“Kill the Cone” monies raised at one of the AX Series go to the Morgan Autism Center).

Kris Vanacore, Kathy Musser, Karen Morgan and I – of course, accompanied by our ‘trustworthy’ photographers, Johnny II and Johnny III Musser, converged upon Sacred Heart to present them with the checks as a result of the Ken & June Iles Crockpot GTG.

We were met by Katherine Avilles and Jay Peaot, who gave us an overview of all the wonderful things that take place at Sacred Heart as well as a tour of the facility- clothing, which in some cases that will outfit individuals going on a job interview, classes on assisting an individual to create a resume or to help them prepare for a job interview, a fully equipped computer lab for teaching computer and office skills, food pantry (which is set up like a small grocery store), parenting classes, after school programs which provides after school tutoring and enrichment to students grades 1-8 until their parents can pick them up, and MORE!

This was an overwhelming and heartwarming experience.

Sacred Heart is ‘busting at the seams’ and growing out of their facility – they turn no one away. There was so much activity going on – we all seemed to get in each other’s way!

Their program is strictly supported by Volunteers and any financial gift (which is tax deductible) makes a significant impact on the items that help the less fortunate.

Their vision: To change lives and impact poverty – feed the hungry, clothe the needy, welcome the stranger and provide the tools for self-sufficiency through their education, housing and employment assistance programs offered.

This was a Heart-to-Heart feel good experience for us all!

Thanks to all LPR Members – we make a difference in our community.

Porscheplatz Story by Bob Morgan

For several years now Porsche Cars North America has worked with PCA Zone 7 to sponsor a hospitality tent during the IMSA Sports Car Races at Mazda Raceway at Laguna Seca. This year, as for many previous years, several LPR members assisted our own Sandy Provasi (Zone Representative to PCA from our Zone 7), and her husband Tom, with Porsche Corral parking, set-up and registration duties. It is a nice opportunity to support and encourage our fellow Porsche enthusiasts and racers, as well as meeting other Zone members and Porsche-people from around the world. We are fortunate to have a renowned venue like Laguna Seca in “our own backyard” so it’s nice to be able to help out in these small ways.
From Sandy Provasi:

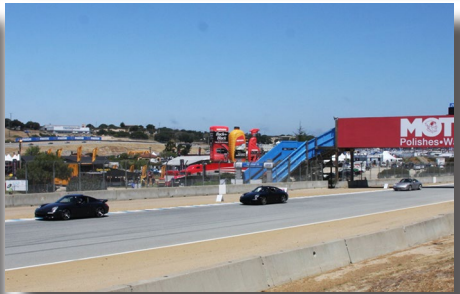

“Paul Gregor is the PCNA rep from Atlanta with help from his assistant Tammy Falkenstein. Porscheplatz is put on at races around the country by PCNA with the help of TL Motorsports, Diesel and Tiffany Lodder. TL Motorsports organizes the 3 parade laps which 65 drivers had a great time reaching speeds of 80-100 and then exiting the track together heading out of Laguna. Paul and TL Motorsports also provided us with things to raffle off like Pace car laps, Hot Pit experience, and Rig tours in the Pits. Monterey Porsche provided the box lunches on Sunday. PCA and Zone 7 provided the volunteers for the weekend. I had over 40 volunteers. David Bunch and Sharon Neidel continue to help at each race. I did get a bunch of new people to help, mostly from Monterey Bay Region, using the email blast.”
Thank you to all the volunteers. PCA is “powered by volunteers”.

Racing

The racing was fast and LOUD. Admission to the Porscheplatz requires advance registration, it is free, and access is limited only to those who register for the Corral or volunteer. The site offers a close-up view of the track so it is “a great place to watch a race.” There are so many races associated with this event, it takes up the entire weekend, so it is quite the spectacle. The Factory Porsche’s struggled a bit in the GTLM category, finishing 3rd and 8th. The big news in GTLM was that Ford won in their new GT car. Porsche won the GTD class, followed by a Ferrari, and Aston Martin, an Audi and a BMW.

The Next race will be the Rolex Monterey August 18-21 at Laguna. There will be a Porsche Corral, which is put on by PCA Saturday and Sunday (Aug 20 and 21), after Werks Reunion, Friday, Aug. 19th. Registration is open, so go to motorsportsreg.com for Werks Reunion tickets and mazdaraceway.com for tickets to the Rolex. Porscheplatz at Mazda Raceway at Laguna Seca.

Views at Porscheplatz- the tent, the people, parking the beauties, on the track, and a great superwideangle shot. And.. a gorgeous Boxster Spyder top right.

In The Zone

I just returned from a great weekend in Lone, CA for SVR's CRAB weekend. Sacramento Valley Region did a wonderful job bringing back CRAB to a sell-out crowd. It was three days of Porsche fun and an airshow to top it off. Thanks SVR and the CRAB 36 volunteers!

Come join Loma Prieta on Sunday, June 5th for the first Zone Concours of the year. It will be at Parts Heaven in Hayward along with a swap meet from 7am-2pm. Hope to see you there to show, sell, browse, buy or judge for the day. Coming up on Saturday, June 11th will be Zone Autocross #5 put on by Sacramento Valley Region at the Stockton Fairgrounds. You can make it a weekend with SVR by heading over to Niello Porsche on Sunday, June 12th for Zone Concours #2.

There is a small group of Zone 7 people heading to Jay Peak, Vermont for the annual Porsche Parade. That will take up the rest of June for me. During the week, I will attend the board meeting for PCA and bring back info for next years Parade in Spokane, Washington. Start planning now for next summer.

Re post: still-needed Zone 7 Treasurer! Zone 7 is now incorporated. So, we need to have a treasurer. It will be a very easy job. Mainly we need someone to file the tax returns. Since we have little money, it will be easy! More questions? Call me.

Safe driving,
Sandy Provasi Zone 7 Rep
